Thank You for Your Support

We make sure that this bulletin is printed by Wednesday so that it can be mailed to our members who are unable to attend. This bulletin also reaches many people in other states. It is so encouraging to know that we can encourage one another even when we cannot physically be in the same room. With that in mind, the day I finished writing this article was Veterans Day.

I love the old adage: "If you are reading this, thank a teacher. If you are reading this in English, thank a veteran." I always try to thank a veteran or active service member when he or she crosses my path. Last week, at our men's retreat in Guntersville, I met several men and women who were actively serving our country and also staying at the Hampton Inn where we were lodging. I told each one, "Thank you for your service." One young man immediately responded, "Thank you for your support."

Veterans deserve our support. It comes down to the sacrifices made for our freedom. "Freedom Isn't Free." How do we support them? It is more than simply thanking them in passing. We support them by not neglecting the privileges they have afforded us. We support them when we vote and get involved in our local communities. As Christians, we support them when we gather together in worship, exercising the freedom we have been afforded to assemble.

My twin sister Rebecca and her husband Kyle have lived in Asia for 13 years as missionaries. They are raising our niece Emma Skye and nephew Korban so far away from our family. When they lived in China, they explained to us in detail some of the challenges Christians faced in a communist country. They told us about a lady who openly gave a Bible to a passerby. The authorities were summoned, and she was taken away. They never saw her again. Christians worshiped underground. They were all essentially "shut-ins." They could not receive a bulletin in the mail. Their places of worship could be discovered at any moment and raided. That is the reality Christians have faced in countries where religious freedom is restricted. Thank God! And thank those who have served to help preserve the freedoms we enjoy in this country.

With this understanding of our freedom, let us stop and think about how we truly support our veterans. There is a distinction between appreciating a freedom and properly using a freedom. We can appreciate the freedom of speech but use our words destructively. We can appreciate the freedom of religion but neglect worship. We can appreciate the freedom to assemble but neglect assembling together. We can appreciate the freedom Christ provides but return to the bondage of sin. "For freedom Christ has set us free; stand firm therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery" (Galatians 5:1). "Therefore we must pay much closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it. For since the message declared by angels proved to be reliable, and every transgression or disobedience received a just retribution, how shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation?" (Hebrews 2:1–3a).

We honor those who have sacrificed for our freedoms by not taking those freedoms for granted. We honor Christ by not taking His sacrifice for granted. Both deserve more than a passing thank you. They deserve a life that demonstrates our appreciation. May we live faithfully as we look forward to hearing these words one day: "Well done, good and faithful servant. Enter into the joy of your master" (Matthew 25:21). In a sense, that sure sounds like another way of saying, "Thank you for your support."
